

LEADERSHIP & RELEVANCE

The Young Vic Theatre

venturethree · 2022 · Kinetic

One theatre, two audiences that pull in opposite directions.

Touring productions need authority. Community-embedded work needs accessibility. Optimize for either and you fracture the identity that needed unifying.

One typeface, variable by context.

Letterforms expand, contract, and deform by the content they name and the room they appear in. Every touchpoint was designed animated first, then adapted to static, reversing the usual process.

Behavioral consistency replaces visual sameness.

One shape-shifting typeface lets a community workshop and an international premiere share a single voice at different volumes.

Designed in motion first.

Brand is behavior, not image.

Nine landmark cultural rebrands, read by what forced the decision. Not by how they look. By what they do.
